

J.CATALYST

J.Catalyst is breaking waves in the music scene. Originally from Texas but now knocking down doors in the Big Apple. J. Catalyst, in just a few short years, worked in some of NYC's most prestigious Audio Recording Studios in the city. However, his true passion is music, and it shows in his music, captivating stage presence, and not to mention winning multiple music competitions.

He first began his music career at the age of 16, and from then on, he performed at various Poetry open mics around the Triple D. This helps spin the web of his lyrical ability navigating his way and making music blended with Hip-hop, Rock, Spoken word, Reggaeton, R&B and a ghostwriter for up-and-coming industry artist.

J.Catalyst prides himself on being an artist that is not afraid to step out of the traditional realm of hip-hop. Instead, he believes that Hip-hop is evolving, and with that in mind, he has every intention of living up to the name Catalyst!

J.Catalyst is expected to release several bodies of music within the next few months. Stay tuned.
